Turbo Day Trading

TERMS & CONDITIONS

1. Agreement and eligibility

These Terms & Conditions ("Terms") govern your access to the Turbo Day Trading website, membership programs, Market Maps, educational sessions, publications, downloadable materials, and related offerings (collectively, the "Services"). The Services are operated by Axiom Research & Trading, Inc. ("Axiom," "we," "us," or "our"). "You" means the person purchasing or using the Services.

By registering, purchasing, renewing, or using the Services, you agree to these Terms and the plan details displayed at checkout. You must be at least 18 years old and legally able to enter this agreement. If you do not agree, do not purchase or use the Services.

2. Nature and scope of Services

The Services may include live market education, recordings, Market Maps and related statistical research, lectures, the Trader's Field Manual, educational tools, member discussion, and other resources. Features vary by plan and may evolve over time.

The Services are educational and informational. We may reasonably modify schedules, instructors, content, platforms, technical delivery, and features. We will communicate material changes affecting a paid plan as appropriate. A membership does not include market-data subscriptions, brokerage services, trading-platform licenses, or other third-party costs unless expressly stated.

3. Plans and individual accounts

Available plans may include Market Maps, Turbo Day Trading, and Complete Access (both). Current prices, included features, trial eligibility, and billing intervals are stated on the relevant checkout page and control over general examples elsewhere in these Terms.

Membership access is personal to the registered account holder. Do not share login credentials, resell access, redistribute protected content, or permit unauthorized third-party use. You are responsible for keeping your login credentials secure and notifying us of suspected unauthorized access.

4. Introductory trials

Where offered, a 14-day introductory trial begins when registration is completed. The checkout page identifies the price and frequency of charges that begin after the trial. Unless you cancel before the first paid billing date, the subscription automatically converts to the stated paid plan.

Only one introductory trial is available per person across the Services, regardless of plan, account, email address, or payment method. Former members and previous trial participants must use returning-member checkout and are not eligible for a new trial. We may verify eligibility and correct or terminate access obtained through duplicate or misleading registrations, subject to applicable law.

5. Recurring billing and authorization

By starting a recurring subscription, you authorize the selected payment provider to charge the stated plan price at the intervals disclosed at checkout until the subscription is canceled or otherwise ends. The payment provider may process payments and send notices under its own terms.

You are responsible for maintaining a valid payment method and reviewing renewal dates and billing notices. Applicable taxes, if any, will be disclosed or collected as required. If payment fails, access may be interrupted or terminated after applicable payment-provider retries and processing.

6. Upgrades, downgrades, and plan changes

You may request a change from one membership plan to another when different plans are offered using the designated member checkout or membership-change process. A plan change takes effect immediately upon successful processing. The new plan's full subscription price is charged immediately, and a new billing cycle begins at that time.

Unused time on the prior plan is not prorated, refunded, transferred, or credited toward the new plan. You expressly acknowledge this consequence when submitting a membership change. A successfully processed replacement should supersede the prior recurring subscription; do not independently purchase a second subscription unless the instructions explicitly tell you to do so.

If a change involves different payment processors or cannot be completed automatically, follow the specific instructions provided or contact support before making another purchase. A request or attempted checkout that fails to process does not itself change or cancel an existing subscription.

7. Cancellation and access expiration

You may cancel a recurring subscription using the cancellation controls in the member area or the applicable payment provider's cancellation process. Cancellation stops future recurring charges once processed by the payment provider; it does not reverse charges already made. Please cancel before the next scheduled charge to avoid renewal.

Unless a checkout offer expressly states otherwise, cancellation ordinarily allows access through the end of the period already paid for, subject to payment-provider and account status. Introductory-trial cancellation before the first paid charge prevents conversion to paid billing. Keep your cancellation confirmation. If you cannot access the cancellation mechanism, contact us promptly using the support channel published on the website.

8. Refunds and billing questions

Subscription charges are generally nonrefundable, including charges for periods in which you choose not to use the Services and amounts forfeited when changing plans. We do not provide automatic prorated refunds or credits for unused time.

This policy does not limit rights that cannot lawfully be waived, including rights relating to unauthorized charges, billing errors, or remedies required by applicable law. We may consider reasonable exceptions or goodwill adjustments in individual circumstances at our discretion. Contact us promptly about suspected billing errors so we can investigate.

9. Intellectual property and permitted use

The Services, Market Maps, research methods, publications, recordings, graphics, proprietary indicators, software, documentation, and related materials are owned by Axiom or its licensors and are protected by applicable intellectual-property laws. Payment grants you a limited, revocable, nonexclusive, nontransferable right to access and use the purchased Services during your authorized membership, subject to these Terms.

You may use educational information for your own study and trading decisions. You may not reproduce, publicly display, distribute, sell, sublicense, scrape, publish, reverse engineer protected software, share proprietary outputs as a service, or use the materials to create a competing commercial product without our prior written permission.

Professional traders and employees of financial institutions may use an ordinary individual membership for their own learning. Commercial licensing, institutional redistribution, client-facing publication of proprietary outputs, or incorporation into third-party advisory products requires a separate written agreement.

10. Educational information; no individualized advice

We provide general market education, research, commentary, and tools, not individualized investment, legal, tax, or accounting advice. Nothing in the Services is a personalized recommendation, an offer to buy or sell a financial instrument, or an undertaking to manage your account or execute trades for you.

You remain solely responsible for deciding whether, when, and how to trade, including instrument selection, position size, risk limits, execution, and compliance with laws and brokerage requirements. Consult qualified advisers when appropriate.

11. Trading risks and performance statements

Trading futures, options, equities, and other financial instruments involves substantial risk, including rapid and potentially complete loss of trading capital and, in some products, losses exceeding an initial investment. Leverage, volatility, liquidity, slippage, fees, and technology failures may materially affect results. Trade only with risk capital you can afford to lose.

Past performance, examples, testimonials, market commentary, and results reported by instructors or members do not guarantee future outcomes and may not be representative of what others will achieve. We make no promise of profitability, win rate, or suitability for any particular person.

12. Market Maps, statistical expectations, and hypothetical results

Market Maps, projected ranges, frequencies, historical expectations, and probability measurements summarize historical behavior under defined assumptions and conditions. They are not promises of future price movement and are not, by themselves, probabilities of profitable trades. Even a high historical frequency does not guarantee that a particular event will occur or that any trade will succeed.

Backtests, simulations, model portfolios, hypothetical examples, and illustrative trades are not actual executed trading unless explicitly identified as such. They may omit or imperfectly represent slippage, fees, liquidity, execution, market impact, and the influence of hindsight. When particular promotional material presents hypothetical performance, any disclaimer specifically required by applicable CFTC/NFA rules must appear with that presentation; this general section is not a substitute for such a disclosure.

13. Availability, platforms, and third parties

Internet access, trading software, market data, compatible equipment, and third-party accounts may be necessary to use some Services and are generally your responsibility. We cannot guarantee uninterrupted availability, flawless data, or compatibility with every device or platform.

Third-party websites, payment providers, brokers, exchanges, and software vendors operate under their own terms and policies. We are not responsible for their independent acts or failures except to the extent required by law.

14. Community conduct and account enforcement

Treat instructors, staff, and other members respectfully. Do not harass others, interfere with sessions, circumvent access controls, distribute malicious content, or misuse member information.

We may suspend or terminate access for material violations, fraud, unauthorized sharing, or behavior that substantially disrupts the Services. Where practical, we will provide notice and an opportunity to address the issue, except where immediate action is reasonably necessary. Suspension or termination does not eliminate legal rights or remedies that cannot be waived.

15. Disclaimers and limits of liability

To the extent permitted by applicable law, the Services are provided “as is” and “as available,” without warranties of uninterrupted service, accuracy, fitness for a particular trading objective, or trading results.

To the extent permitted by law, Axiom and its personnel are not liable for indirect, incidental, consequential, special, or punitive damages arising from use of the Services, including trading losses or lost profits. Nothing in these Terms excludes liability or consumer rights that applicable law does not permit us to exclude. Any proposed monetary liability cap should be reviewed by counsel before publication.

16. Indemnification

To the extent permitted by law, you agree to indemnify Axiom against third-party claims, losses, and reasonable costs arising from your unlawful use of the Services, infringement of third-party rights, unauthorized distribution of protected materials, or material breach of these Terms, except to the extent caused by Axiom’s own wrongdoing.

17. Privacy, communications, and testimonials

Our collection and handling of personal information are described in the privacy notice published on the website. Service-related emails may include receipts, account notices, billing information, and important operational updates. Promotional email preferences are managed separately as required by law.

We will not publicly identify you or use a personal testimonial in marketing without an appropriate basis or permission. We may use anonymized feedback only where it cannot reasonably identify you, subject to applicable law and our privacy commitments.

18. Governing law and disputes

These Terms are governed by California law, without regard to conflict-of-law rules, except where mandatory consumer-protection law provides otherwise. Subject to applicable law, disputes may be brought in courts of competent jurisdiction in San Diego County, California. Nothing here limits a right to bring a claim in another forum where applicable law requires it.

19. Changes to Terms

We may update these Terms to reflect changes in Services, technology, business practices, or law. We will post the updated version and its effective date, and provide additional notice where legally required or where a change materially affects existing paid memberships. Continued use after an update takes effect constitutes acceptance to the extent permitted by law.

20. General provisions and contact

If a provision is unenforceable, the remainder will continue to apply to the extent permitted by law. Failure to enforce a provision once does not waive the right to enforce it later. These Terms, together with checkout disclosures and any applicable written plan-specific terms, form the agreement for the Services.

For billing, access, or contractual questions, use the support/contact method published on TurboDayTrading.com.

Checkout disclosure — new subscription

Your 14-day trial begins when registration is completed, if you are eligible for a trial. Unless canceled before the first paid billing date, your subscription automatically renews at the monthly price shown above. By completing checkout, you agree to the Terms & Conditions and authorize recurring charges. Previous trial participants are not eligible for another trial.

Checkout disclosure — membership change

By completing this membership change, you authorize the full new subscription charge immediately. Your new billing cycle begins now. Unused time on your previous membership is not prorated, refunded, or credited. A successfully processed modification is intended to replace your prior subscription; please verify your confirmation before submitting another payment.

Pre-publication review notes (remove before posting)

- Confirm exact legal name and published support contact details.
- Verify the gateway behavior for cancellation, trial conversion, modifications, EOT, and access expiry before promising automatic replacement.
- Have counsel review California automatic-renewal disclosures, consent and cancellation flows, liability language, venue, refund policy, and treatment of existing subscribers.

- Confirm any applicable CFTC/NFA advertising and hypothetical-performance obligations; include required disclosures beside specific performance presentations.
- Publish a separately maintained privacy notice and ensure marketing/testimonial practices match it.
- Decide whether this agreement governs other Axiom-branded sites or only TurboDayTrading.com.
